New York, Nov. 4.

The Times' Washington special says Ferry, who was convicted and sentenced to the state prison for life, and who on his trial made a partial confession, is now disposed to be more communicative.

arrest stick of the whole business, and was simply waiting to receive replies to letters addressed by him to Peter Gogger and other prominent Democratic politicians in New York, which would prove their complicity beyond a peradventure, when he intended to jointly make a complete exposé of the whole thing, and if the arrest of himself and his associates had been postponed another week, he would have been able to fix the guilty persons in stone.

This morning Captain J. F. Guinea, of the nineteenth United States Infantry, arrived from the front, having in charge Lieutenant Murphy, of the Seventh New York artillery, who, it is said, is implicated in the election frauds by signing blanks. Murphy was arrested by order of the Secretary of War, and has been committed to the Old Capitol to await investigation.

The World's special says the New York comto accomplish the object of their mission. Their report, together with all correspondence held with the Government, will be delivered Gov. Seymour upon their arrival.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.

Late rebel papers give particulars of the movement of Hood's army from Gadsden, Ala., toward Hunter's Landing, on the Tennessee river.

The most astounding result is prophesied.

The Richmond Sentinel strongly advocates freeing slaves in the rebel army.

ble, Chief of Artillery, United States Army, and were not guarded, but gave their parole of honor not to escape. The first thing done by them after repudiating their names was to call for supper. Many days have passed since they partook of such a supper as they obtained that night at Bismarck, and it may well be supposed that they created a vacuum in Fugate's order. Genuine coffee had a foreign taste to his palate, while buckwheat cakes, with butter and golden brown, vanished upon the Marmaduke is a large, face-looking man, of middle age, pleasing address and prepossessing appearance. Cabell (pronounced Cabell) is somewhat older, with gray whiskers, and a less commanding presence. The otstara are ordinary looking men, and of no great force in the field or elsewhere. Their loss to Price would be great, but in the Union army they could be considered of small consequence.

Suffering in California.

The Lowell (Mass.) Courier publishes the following extracts from a letter from a lady in SACRAMENTO, CAL., Oct. 2.

Business is exceedingly dull here. The crops have cut off all business for farmers.
There is an immense amount of emigration this season, and there must, of course, be a great deal of suffering among the emigrants before the crops come off another year. In a great many localities there has been nothing

The people are actually starving to death. Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo, and in that region. One man who owned ten thousand cattle has lost all but sixty by starvation. They are making a great effort in San Francisco to aid the sufferers. They have had several public meetings, and appointed committees to canvass the city. The wealthy business men went around with drums to arouse

It is not so bad all over the State, but Southern California has suffered exceedingly. A great many of the farmers about here have not raised a single thing to eat this year. A Mr. Hall dined with us yesterday. He lives eighteen miles away up on the Sacramento river.

PERSONAL.—The correct name of the gentleman who was murdered by the ruffians on the Erie railroad last Thursday, at Middlebrook, New York, was Dr. Wray, of Paris, Kentucky.
